The settlement was conditioned upon Commission approval of the settlement. The settlement amount is $500,000.

Per the City of West Palm Beach Code of Ordinances Section 2-268(g)(4), settlement amounts in excess of $30,000 require Commission approval. This settlement is the result of negotiation between the parties and is a compromise of the full amount of the cost of the workers' compensation claim had it remained an open claim as allowed by law. In addition, the settlement includes a general release of all other potential claims and all other prior known claims, including any prior workers' compensation claims against the City. As well, this settlement includes execution of a general release of all employment related claims.

If Commission approval is provided, the settlement documents are then submitted to the Judge of Compensation Claims for the judge's specific approval. It is at that point, where the Servicing Agent then issues the settlement check(s) and the case is officially concluded.

Fiscal Note:

As the City has reached its excess insurance reimbursement level due to the amount of payments in the compensable claim, the City first pays out the $500,000. Within approximately fourteen (14) days or less, the excess insurance company reimburses the City all such monies, per the insurance policy between the City and the excess insurance company. The net fiscal impact is $0.
